Dear Mr. Mitchell:

Original impounded by
court order. See memo
in 63-16062-13 fm

Your letter of May 17, 1973, raises questions relating to my statement to the press on May 14, 1973, concerning electronic surveillances of certain individuals beginning in 1969.

Specifically, you requested information as to the source upon which my statement was based concerning your approval, as Attorney General, of the surveillances in question, and the basis or evidence upon which I stated that Mr. Hoover was informed by you that records relating to the above-mentioned electronic surveillances had been destroyed.

Inasmuch as the principals concerned with the implementation of the electronic surveillances are either deceased, as in the case of Mr. Hoover, or are no longer associated with the FBI, I relied on existing records of the FBI and on recollections of present and former employees of the FBI and the Department of Justice as the sources of my statement to the press.

As regards your approval of all these surveillances, we found in the records recovered from the White House all letters bearing both the signature of Mr. Hoover requesting the electronic surveillance and your own signature authorizing it on each such surveillance. On at least one such letter handwritten comments were added by you to indicate expeditious installation. At the time you were interviewed by FBI Special Agents on May 11, 1973, and denied that you had seen or approved any such requests from the FBI for wiretap coverage.

had not recovered the FBI file material and, accordingly, the Agents were not in a position to apprise you that direct evidence to the contrary existed. There were statements by ex-employees that they had prepared Attorney General authorizations and had seen signed authorizations returned.

Handwritten notes of Mr. J. Edgar Hoover in the files of the FBI, as well as recollections of FBI officials, support my statement that Mr. Hoover was later informed by you that the records had been destroyed.

As to the practice of requiring from the Attorney General renewal authority for national security electronic surveillances on a ninety-day basis, according to our records our instructions were to maintain no records of the surveillances, and this was pointed out in the initial letter to you dated May 12, 1969, requesting approval for the first group of surveillances. Our records also reveal that although no ninety-day continuations were apparently sought, you were kept informed by letter from time to time as to which electronic surveillances had been discontinued.

Various documents among those recovered from the White House indicate that you were kept informed as to the status and existence of the surveillances in question, up to the time you were informed that all such surveillances had been discontinued.

The FBI has not suggested, publicly or otherwise, that these were other than lawful national security surveillances with respect to the request, authorization and installation of the electronic surveillances in question. We do believe that improprieties occurred when the records relating to the surveillances were removed from the official custody of the FBI without the knowledge or approval of the Director of the FBI.

I trust this answers the questions you have raised.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Director:

Original impounded by
court order. See memo
in 63-16062-13 fm

I have read with more than great interest your statement of May 14, 1973, relative to electronic surveillance of certain government employees and newsmen commencing in the Spring of 1969. Such statement attributes to me certain actions which are contrary to my recollection and I would appreciate being advised as to the source of the information upon which you based such statements.

First, it is stated with respect to authorizations of electronic surveillance, "... and if the Director approves, authority is then requested from the Attorney General. If he approves, as was done in this case, the surveillance commences...."

Upon what evidence or information was this statement of my approval founded?

Second, it is stated with respect to an F.B.I. investigation of this matter in the Fall of 1971, "... it commenced an inquiry which ended when Mr. Hoover was informed by Mr. Mitchell that the records had been destroyed."

Upon what evidence or information was this statement of my so informing Mr. Hoover founded?

I would like to make one further observation with respect to the text of your statement. Therein it states that, "These requests were handled in the same way as other requests involving national security for a number of years and in prior Administrations."

If this be the case you will find in the appropriate files of the Attorney General's office written requests for authorization from the Director and information with respect to the action taken thereon by the Attorney General. I would also call to your attention the requirement of the Attorney General that all authorizations for national security electronic surveillance must be renewed every ninety days if they are to be continued.

My purpose in writing this letter is not to generate a confrontation with the F.B.I. or its Acting Director, but rather to obtain factual information which, if it exists, is contrary to my best recollection of the circumstances described.

With kindest regards and best wishes for your success in your current undertaking, I am

Sincerely,

John N. Mitchell

Mr. Ruckelshaus on 5/17/73 requested that two points be clarified with respect to the special investigation conducted last week resulting in recovery of the FBI file material in this matter. A handwriting comparison of signatures on the authorization letters with other known writing of former Attorney General Mitchell was requested and resolution of the question involved in the termination date of all such wiretaps of 2/10/71 per the recovered records versus the recollections of some of our employees of June, 1971, in the interviews of such employees conducted before the recovery of the records.

In reviewing the interview report forms of the interviews of our employees it is noted that Assistant Director Miller and SA Thomas J. Smith of the Intelligence Division indicated that their recollection was that the last of these wiretaps were pulled off around June, 1971. Monitoring employee [redacted] of the Washington Field Office recalled that it was January or February, 1971. Supervisor [redacted] of the Washington Field Office, in his interview, had supplied the date of June, 1972, as the date he recalled was the termination of this project. Other persons interviewed gave no specific month but just said sometime in 1971 or around mid-1971.

Attached is memorandum of the Laboratory on the handwriting examination which confirmed that all of the signatures of John N. Mitchell on the 15 authorizing documents affecting instant wiretaps were prepared by the same individual who had signed numerous other similar authorizations for wiretaps not connected with instant project. (It is noted here that we have no signatures in FBI files of John N. Mitchell written in the presence of an FBI Agent or attested to under oath.) With respect to the date recollections, Assistant Director Miller and SA Smith advised that their recollection of the date of June, 1971, was simply their best recollection based on hearsay and they had no direct knowledge of the date the taps were removed.

Re: Sensitive Cover Placed at the Request of the White House

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

[redacted] advised that he now realizes he had confused two unrelated events insofar as offering a recollection as to the time the wiretaps were removed on the newsmen and White House Aides. He stated that as a result of the Keith decision in June, 1972, he knew that a series of domestic security wiretaps were removed and he confused this recollection when interviewed last week, thus offering the date of June, 1972, in that interview. He now recalls that it was over a year prior that the group of wiretaps on the newsmen, et al., were removed, though from his own recollection cannot fix the month.

Monitoring clerks [redacted] and [redacted] clearly recall that within two weeks from the time that the last group of wiretaps on newsmen and related sensitive targets were pulled off, they were reassigned to a physical surveillance operation (look-out post) inasmuch as their services were not required in the [redacted]. [redacted] clearly recalls that FBI 9788 he worked on a [redacted] for about two weeks after the removal of the newsmen wiretaps and then went to the look-out assignment. Based on this information we located an internal office memorandum dated 2/17/71 which recorded the transfers of clerks [redacted] and [redacted] from the [redacted] to a surveillance squad, the transfer being effective 2/22/71. Thus, their recollections supported by this memorandum coincide virtually exactly with the written record on the wiretap coverage (recovered 5/12/73), showing that the last group of 9 wiretaps was discontinued 2/10/71.

From 1969 to 1971, the FBI provided highly sensitive wiretap coverage to the White House in the interest of national security. Written authorization from the Attorney General of the United States was secured for each such wiretap.

During 1971, documents relating to this activity were removed from this Bureau without the authorization of the Director. Recently, I ordered an inquiry to determine the facts of this matter and succeeded in recovering the documents.

Enclosed for your review and any official action you deem necessary are copies of reports of interviews of former Attorney General John N. Mitchell; former Assistant Attorney General Robert C. Mardian; and Special Agent in Charge Charles D. Brennan. Also enclosed are copies of a letter addressed to Mr. William C. Sullivan, Director, Office of Narcotics Intelligence, dated May 10, 1973, and Mr. Sullivan's reply dated May 11, 1973.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON
MR. SULLIVAN
MR. BISHOP

Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, National Security Adviser to the President, called from Key Biscayne, Florida. He advised that there is a story today on the front page of the New York Times by William Beecher which is extraordinarily damaging and uses secret information. Dr. Kissinger said they wondered whether I could make a major effort to find out where that came from. I said I would. Dr. Kissinger said the article is in the lower right hand corner of the front page and to put whatever resources I need to find who did this. I told him I would take care of it right away. Dr. Kissinger said to do it discreetly, of course, but they would like to know where it came from because it is very damaging and potentially very dangerous. I commented it is this kind of thing that gives us headaches of where they come from; that if we can find the source one time and make an example it would put a stop to it. Dr. Kissinger agreed and said that is what they propose to do.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover
Director

Raids in Cambodia

By U.S. Unprotested

By WILLIAM BEECHER
Special to The New York Times

WASHINGTON, May 8—American B-52 bombers in recent weeks have raided several Vietcong and North Vietnamese supply dumps and base camps in Cambodia for the first time, according to Nixon Administration sources, but Cambodia has not made any protest.

In fact, Cambodian authorities have increasingly been cooperating with American and South Vietnamese military men at the border, often giving them information on Vietcong and North Vietnamese movements into South Vietnam.

Information from knowledgeable sources indicated that three principal factors underlie the air strikes just inside the Cambodian border, west and northwest of Saigon:

Rising concern by military men that most of the rockets and other heavy weapons and ammunition being used by North Vietnamese and Vietcong forces in the southern half of South Vietnam now come by sea to Cambodia and never have to run any sort of bombing gauntlet before they enter South Vietnam.

A desire by high Washington officials to signal Hanoi that the Nixon Administration, while pressing for peace in Paris, is willing to take some military risks avoided by the previous Administration.

Apparent increasing worry on the part of Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodia's Chief of State, that the North Vietnamese and Vietcong now effectively control several of Cambodia's northern provinces and that he lacks sufficient power to disrupt or dislodge them.

No Desire to Extend War

Officials say that there is no Administration interest at this time in extending the ground war into Cambodia, or Laos either.

Some American ground commanders have long urged that battalion-size forces occasionally be allowed to sweep into sanctuaries in Laos and Cambodia to follow-up air strikes. This plea has been rejected by President Nixon as it was by President Johnson.

But sources here say that to assure that accurate information can be obtained to provide "lucrative" targets for the bombers, small teams of men are permitted to slip across both the Cambodian and Laotian borders to locate enemy concentrations of men and material.

The sources report, for instance, that to try to reduce losses in B-52 raids the enemy has dug in and dispersed supply caches in such a way that it is unlikely that all supplies in any one area would be hit by the linear pattern of bombs dropped by a B-52. Each plane, which normally carries about 30 tons of bombs, lays out a pattern that is 1,000 feet wide and 4 miles long.

Coincided With Other Raids

The raids into Cambodia, the sources say, coincided with heavy B-52 raids on the Vietnamese side of the border 50 to 75 miles northwest of Saigon.

Over the last two weeks more than 5,000 tons of bombs have been dropped by B-52's in this area, according to one estimate.

There are reported to be three enemy divisions operating back and forth across the border in this area: the First and Seventh North Vietnamese Divisions and the Ninth Vietcong Division. Another division, the Fifth Vietcong, is now operating south and southeast of Saigon.

The decision to demonstrate to Hanoi that the Nixon Administration is different and "tougher" than the previous Administration was reached in January, well-placed sources say, as part of a strategy for ending the war.

Limited, selective bombing strikes into Cambodia, the sources say, were considered feasible because Prince Sihanouk had dropped hints that he would not oppose such actions and because American military men had long clamored for some action against enemy activities in this sanctuary. Moreover, the strikes seemed to offer relatively little risk of either expanding the war or disrupting the Paris peace talks.

In the past, American and South Vietnamese forces had occasionally fired across the border and even called in fighters or helicopter gunships to counter fire they received from enemy units there. But there had been no bombing of supply stockpiles or base camps in Cambodia, military men say.

Purposely Ambiguous

The initiation of such strikes raises the question whether the new Administration, if peace talks drag on without significant progress, would turn to other military measures ruled out by President Johnson. "We're being purposely ambiguous on this," one official said.

Over the last several weeks the military sources say, Cambodian Army officers in border posts have held secret meetings with Americans and South Vietnamese to "coordinate" some actions against enemy forces.

The South Vietnamese have provided them with radios and in some instances the Cambodians have radioed information on enemy units moving into South Vietnam. At other times, the Cambodians have fired colored flares—for example, red to mark an enemy unit and blue to mark their own—so that allied forces would not fire at the wrong unit.

There have been a few recent clashes between Cambodian and Vietcong units in which the Cambodians have captured and disarmed some of the Vietcong before freeing them, the Pentagon sources say.

International Volleyball

As one indication of growing friendliness, one official cited a recent volleyball game near the border involving Cambodian, American and South Vietnamese soldiers.

"This cooperation is only starting to get off the ground," said one officer. "It's too early to tell how important this will turn out to be."

Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, National Security Adviser to the President, called from Key Biscayne, Florida. He advised that there is a story today on the front page of the New York Times by William Beecher which is extraordinarily damaging and uses secret information. Dr. Kissinger said they wondered whether I could make a major effort to find out where that came from. I said I would. Dr. Kissinger said the article is in the lower right hand corner of the front page and to put whatever resources I need to find who did this. I told him I would take care of it right away. Dr. Kissinger said to do it discreetly, of course, but they would like to know where it came from because it is very damaging and potentially very dangerous. I commented it is this kind of thing that gives us headaches of where they come from; that if we can find the source one time and make an example it would put a stop to it. Dr. Kissinger agreed and said that is what they propose to do.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover
Director

Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, National Security Adviser to the President, called from Key Biscayne, Florida. He said he just called to check on one other thing in connection with the article this morning by William Beecher in the New York Times. He said that while they would like to have the highest priority on this, they would also like to have it conducted discreetly so no stories will get out. I told him that is what we are doing at the present time. He said he was sure I would, but if it gets out, that we are making a major effort, it will confirm the story.

I told him I had decided we would not make contact with the New York Times or the writer, but we have excellent contacts and confidential contacts with some other newspapermen who cover the Pentagon and we are asking them, without any knowing about the other, to see if they can find out where it came from. Dr. Kissinger expressed his thanks and said we would be in touch and I told him I would call him tomorrow morning; that we were happy to do it as it is our job.

Assistant to the Director Cartha D. DeLoach called. He said that in connection with the call this morning from Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, National Security Adviser to the President, regarding the article on the front page of the New York Times by William Beecher, he did not think it would do any good whatsoever to contact the New York Times reporter or the Times as we would get the usual cold shoulder. I agreed. Mr. DeLoach said he would like to recommend, subject to my approval, contacting people like [redacted] of Newhouse, [redacted] (phonetic) of Copley, and [redacted] of the Evening Star, individually, and telling them we have to find out who did this and could they help us and then let them see what they can find out through their contacts.

I told Mr. DeLoach to have this done. I also told him that Dr. Kissinger had called again and pointed out two other articles this fellow has written in the last ten days which are serious leaks. I said this one this morning is bad because it prevents our forces from doing things they have been doing in Cambodia and alerts the enemy. I told Mr. DeLoach that Dr. Kissinger has asked that I call him tomorrow morning to see what the status is, and Mr. DeLoach said he would keep me advised. I stated the President is vitally interested.

Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, National Security Adviser to the President, called from Key Biscayne, Florida, and referred to his earlier call to me this morning regarding an article on the front page of the New York Times by William Beebe. He said there were two other stories by the same man within the last ten days - one having to do with our Korean decision and one with the National Security study on strategic forces. He said what they would like is to tie all three together. I told him I would look up the other articles and include them in the inquiry which we have already started.

Dr. Kissinger asked that I call him as soon as we know something, but even if we don't, that I call him sometime tomorrow morning to bring him up to date because this is of most intense interest. I told him I would. I also told him I had read the article this morning and there are many facets where I see it would be embarrassing to the Administration and harmful. Dr. Kissinger said they are disastrous because it makes it hard to do this again. I said it also alerts the enemy right away as to exactly what the plans have been.

I called Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, National Security Adviser to the President, at Key Biscayne, Florida. I told him I had some information which I thought he ought to know about so as to bring him up to date. [u]

I told him that in regards to the background of William Beecher, who wrote the article in the New York Times today, he is formerly from the St. Louis Globe Democrat and then went to the Wall Street Journal and was later employed by the New York Times. He has been active in

as particularly astute as to military affairs. In 1966 at the request of Marvin Watson, Assistant to the President at that time, we conducted an investigation as to a leak of information concerning United States government policy in the anti-missile field in connection with an article by Beecher in the New York Times of December 27, 1966. Our investigation led to nothing very definite except the possibility that his story was primarily on informed speculation as there had been made available publicly a lot of source material from which he could draw his conclusions. [u]

JUN 5 19[redacted]

I stated that in regard to the current three articles, it is the conclusion of the contacts we have made that it could have come and probably did from a staff member of the National Security Council. I continued that

[redacted] is now a staff member of the National Security Council. There is a strong possibility also that he may have gotten some of his information from the Southeast Asia Desk, Public Affairs Office of the Department of Defense, as the Public Affairs Office is constituted of employees who are pronounced anti-Nixon. I continued that Beecher frequents this office as well as the National Security Council, and the employees freely furnish him information inasmuch as they are largely Kennedy people and anti-Nixon. I said that also in the Systems Analysis Agency in the Pentagon, there are at least 110 of the 124 employees who are still McNamara people and express a very definite Kennedy philosophy. [u]

I continued that this situation has made it very easy for Beecher to obtain information; however, the source we have been working through said it should not be ruled out that a staff member of the National Security Council who obviously was in a position to know the information contained in all three articles could have assisted Beecher. Dr. Kissinger said he has heard this as an allegation, too, but there is no proof; that he has heard it as a speculation. Dear Dr. Kissinger:

This is in reference to our conversation on May 9, 1969, concerning certain news stories written by William Beecher which had recently appeared in "The New York Times." (u)

I informed you that in 1966 at the request of Marvin Watson, Assistant to the President at that time, we conducted an investigation as to a leak of information concerning the United States Government's policy in the antimissile field in connection with an article by Beecher in "The New York Times," of December 27, 1966. Our investigation disclosed that his story was primarily speculation based on public source material. (u)

In regard to the current three articles, it is the conclusion of the sources we have contacted that the information probably came from a staff member such as Morton H. Halperin of the National Security Council. Also, it is a strong possibility that some of the information came from the Southeast Asian Desk, Public Affairs Office of the Department of Defense, as the Public Affairs Office is constituted of anti-Administration personnel. It would be appreciated if you would advise if you

In the last 2 weeks only 2 communications were sent to the b6

O SPEC 01

JUNE

Reference is made to my memorandum dated September 8, 1969, concerning the physical and telephone surveillances which we have had in effect concerning [redacted]

Inasmuch as these surveillances have been of limited productivity, the fact that effective physical and telephone surveillances require approximately ten men a day, and since [redacted] is reported to be leaving the White House it is believed that consideration should be given to the discontinuance of these surveillances at this time. An early decision in this matter would be appreciated.

b6

JAS:mls (3)

(The memorandum of reference asked the Attorney General whether or not the surveillances on [redacted] should be continued in view of the fact that they had produced no information of value in the last several weeks. Since that time the press has carried a story indicating that [redacted] was leaving the White House to accept other employment. In view of this and the fact that this ties up considerable manpower, it is believed this matter should be again raised with the Attorney General.)
